

BDO Hockey World Cup Men live on Eurosport and Eurosport 2

After the Football World Cup and the World Equestrian Games Germany is looking forward to the next sporting highlight. The Warsteiner HockeyPark in Mönchengladbach is Europe's biggest and most modern hockey stadium and will host the BDO Hockey World Cup Men from September 6. - 17. The twelve best nations worldwide are competing for the World Cup 2006, and Germany is not only hosting the tournament but trying to defend its World Cup title from 2002. Eurosport and Eurosport 2 will broadcast live 27 out of 42 matches and cover the event at great length.

The World Cup tournament is first played in two pools A and B "everyone against each other". After finishing the pool matches the first and second of each pool plays over cross the semifinals. The final will take place on September 17. The drawing produced the following pools:

Pool A: Australia - Spain - Pakistan - Argentina - New Zealand - Japan

Pool B: Netherlands - Germany - India - Korea - South Africa - England

The pan-European channel Eurosport, available in 20 different languages, reaches over 108 million homes and 240 million viewers across 54 countries. Eurosport 2, the new sports channel launched in January 2005, is already transmitted in 9 languages across 40 different countries.
